Halleck, Brown Battle Behind Scene For G.O.P. Floor Leader

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov 9—Supporters of Rep Charles A Halleck of Indiana claimed today the job of house Republican floor leader in the 80th congress "is in the bag" for the 46-year-old Hoosier.

Friends of Rep Clarence Brown countered promptly that the 57-year-old Ohioan 'has it all sewed up"

The contest goes on against a background of jockeying for advantage in the campaign for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

Halleck backers say election of Brown would give Senator Robert A Taft and the state of Ohio entirely too much weight in the new congress Taft, already in line for the senate leadership, is one of the G O P presidential hopefuls and Brown is regarded as a member of his camp

Neither Announce Candidacy

Neither Halleck nor Brown has officially announced his candidacy for the No 2 majority spot in the next house, where the top post of speaker already has been earmarked for Rep Joseph W Martin Jr of Massachusetts.

But colleagues of both are working avidly behind the scenes, and in the case of Halleck, at least, have sent letters to all Republican representatives-elect requesting their support Similar letters are expected to be forthcoming from Brown's lieutenants

Halleck's friends claim he is entitled to the leadership both by seniority and tradition. He has been in congress four years longer than Brown and has been chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, a post held by Martin before he became Republican floor leader

The Brown forces insist he merits the job because he directed the campaign which put Republicans in control of congress in last Tuesday's elections.

Dark Horse Entered

A dark horse, Rep Thomas Jenkins of Ohio, is out to beat both Halleck and Brown

Jenkins, chairman of the G O P. congressional food study committee, has prepared letters to all elected Republicans asking that they support him

Both the Halleck and Brown camps predict there will be only one man in the race when the time comes for a decision. Indications are that the fight will be carried into the Republican caucus when it meets behind closed doors, probably late in December, to make its decisions on house organization.

The Republican house steering committee, meeting here next Thursday at Martin's call, is expected to confine its activities to general matters of party policy and the drafting of a legislative program.

Mrs Anderson's battered body was found in a field in west Newark July 28.

Petition To Lausche Ready

Steubenville Citizens To Ask Special Investigation of Vice.

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O Nov 9—A petition will be circulated at a mass meeting of citizens tomorrow asking Gov Lausche to appoint a special prosecutor and grand jury to investigate crime here, Rev R K Russell, president of the Steubenville Ministerial association, said today

One of the leaders of a group of 12 pastors who have asked police powers to serve as a "sledge hammer vice patrol," the minister did not estimate how many persons they expected to sign the petition

The session was called by the ministers and Calvin Cook, head of a printing concern who urged Steubenville citizens to form a citizens league to 'give any kind of support the ministers need to clean up the city"

Meanwhile, the ministers said an anonymous phone call warning one of their members to lay off would have no effect on their plans

Dr Norman E Nygaard said a husky-voiced man called his phone at 2 30 a m yesterday When the pastor took the phone from his four-year-old daughter who answered the call, the man said

"Tell your father he'd better lay off before it's too late '

City council referred the pastors' demand for authority 'to smash the vice centers" to the mayor safety director and city solicitor but Rev Russell reported he was "very unsatisfied" with attempts to arrange a conference.

Lima Chief of Police Withdraws Resignation

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O, Nov. 9—Kermit L Westbay claimed the title of police chief again today after withdrawing his resignation submitted two days ago Mayor W L Ferguson also withdrew his recommendation that the civil service commission accept the resignation

The twin moves followed a conference of the mayor, police chief and the welfare committee of the Fraternal Order of Police. None gave an explanation

Westbay resigned after a city council investigating committee recommended that he be demoted on grounds of "incompetence, inefficiency neglect of duty, misfeasance and failure of good behavior in office"

Chinese Set Monday As Truce Deadline

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Nov. 9—The government today set noon Monday as the hour to cease firing in China's civil war and called skeptical minority parties into conference to urge them to work as a team for peace.

Before the meeting opened both the Communists and the third party Democratic League expressed doubt that Chiang Kai-shek's surprise truce order yesterday would help much in healing the wounds of civil conflict.

A Communist statement asserted a proviso that government armies would fire only to protect themselves would serve "as the pretext for all kinds of military operations"

DEMOCRAT HOPES HANNEGAN STAYS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov 9—Senator-elect John J. Sparkman (D-Ala), who ran the Democratic speakers bureau in the recent campaign, said today he hoped Robert E. Hannegan would stay as chairman of the national committee despite the severe party setback. "I see no reason for him resigning at this time," Sparkman told a reporter.

Associates of Hannegan had indicated he might quit as chairman soon—possibly in January—while keeping his cabinet post as postmaster general Hannegan entered Walter Reed hospital this week for a physical checkup after conducting a strenuous campaign while bothered with his teeth.

The chairman's future is only one of the many "where do we go from here" questions facing Democratic, Republican and independent political organization leaders

Members of the Democratic headquarters staff are expected to get together next week to make their plans. Already many employes have received dismissal notices in a move to trim expenses.

Up the street at Republican national headquarters there is talk of a meeting, sometime before Christmas, of the whole national committee.

RADIO UNIONS FAVOR STRIKE FOR CONTRACT

Three Largest Units Authorize Walkout Unless Networks Agree.

By The Associated Press

The three largest units of the AFL American Federation of Radio Artists favor a strike unless the four major networks agree to a new contract but there were some bright spots on the nations labor front.

The New York and Chicago units Friday night joined the Hollywood unit of AFRA in authorizing their executive board to call a strike Negotiations between the union and the networks were broken off Oct 30 over a union demand for a clause in the new contract, which, a union spokesman said, 'would require all networks to refuse to pipe in their program to any affiliated station which refused to negotiate or arbitrate issues with AFRA '

Other developments included

Two Rochester, N Y, newspapers suspended publication after a walkout of mechanical employes principals in the 19-day-old strike by 1 400 AFL pilots against Trans-World Airline were called into conference by a federal mediator in Washington, a threatened work stoppage at the Ford Motor Company's Big Rouge plant near Detroit disappeared, striking meat cutters and clerks voted to end their eight-day walkout which had closed 85 Denver grocery stores, in San Francisco four CIO longshoremen were arrested for leading a parade without a permit after some 2,000 striking maritime unionists were prevented by police from massing in front of shipowners offices

There was a lull in the big soft coal dispute but the showdown in the threatened walkout of 400 000 miners starts Monday when government officials headed by Secretary of Interior J. A Krug and John L Lewis, head of the AFL United Mine Workers, meet in Washington

TRUMAN PREPARES POLICY STATEMENT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov 9—President Truman will make a brief general policy statement at a news conference at 10 a m Monday, the White House announced today.

Charles G Ross, press secretary, in making the announcement, did not say what the statement would deal with in particular, but it was learned it would be a brief general statement of policy in the light of last Tuesday's election results

Word got out overnight that the President was working on a statement that he would place the nation's welfare above personal and party interest in the administration of government under a Republican congress This information came from some of his intimates.

Persons who have talked with the Chief Executive since Tuesday's general election believe the tone of Monday's promised statement will be conciliatory.

Mr Truman, they say, will emphasize his hope for continued two-party support of the foreign policy developed by Secretary of State James F Byrnes

The best advised men around the White House say Mr Truman intends to accept the verdict of the voters in good spirits Even a bad head cold has not made him "downhearted".

The cold is so much better that he will visit Arlington National Cemetery Monday to lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier as part of the general observance of Armistice Day.

Daughter Of Governor-Elect To Be Youngest "First Lady"

Campaigning ended and Mrs Stevers finds time to relax with a book and the family pet, "Tiny' Her job as Ohio's First Lady starts Jan 1.

By VIRGINIA COOKSEY
Central Press Writer

CLEVELAND, Nov 9—The Republicans made history in more ways than one when they upset Ohio Democrats in the Nov. 5 election

They carried into office a man whose daughter will be the Buckeye state's youngest first lady in at least 50 years and perhaps in Ohio's history

She is Mrs Metta Stevers, 23-year-old daughter of Gov-elect Thomas J Herbert, of Cleveland

The attractive brunette with the deep brown eyes emphasizes that the important thing was her father's victory because she believes implicitly in him and his ability to be chief executive of Ohio

As far as being his hostess in the governor's mansion in Columbus is concerned, she will be striving for success as much for her mother as for her father

Mrs Herbert died only last December, shortly after her husband announced his intentions to seek the governorship in this election

"I only hope to be as gracious as mother would have been," Mrs Stevers said "Mother was a charming, socially-inclined person and she would have loved this sort of thing"

Marker Is Inspiration

Speaking softly of the woman whose place she reluctantly will take, Mrs Stevers said much of her inspiration would come from memories of her mother

Life will be as home-like in the gubernatorial mansion as possible despite the priority sometimes of important social affairs

The Herberts will get back to being a family again for the first time in months The new governor and his daughter have seen each other in recent months as they passed one another on campaign trips throughout the state

Mrs Stevers hopes, for several reasons, that the traveling will end, at least for her, when she gets settled Her husband, Capt. C. Lewis Stevers, will be at home after nearly two years' service overseas in the Army Medical Corps

Captain Stevers' home-coming on the eve of the election for the first time in 16 months was just about as exciting as the impending election. In fact, Mrs. Stevers could not decide which she wanted to talk about most So she wound up with a compromise.

Will "Stay with Dad"

'He will set up private practice somewhere in Ohio but we haven't decided where. Meanwhile, we'll stay with Dad. You see," she explained, "that will make four of us at home, including my brother, Dan, a student at Ohio State university in Columbus"

Ohio State played an important part in the life of the state's new first lady Not only did she graduate from the State university's school of nursing to become a registered nurse, but she met her husband there.

She was in training at the time and he was interning. They were married Sept. 16, 1944, but she continued in training until she graduated.

Mrs. Stevers also credits that training for helping her while she

CABINET OFFICERS BACK DECONTROL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Cabinet officers lined up today in staunch support of administration plans for scrapping—perhaps next week—nearly all price and wage controls still on the books.

A top government official familiar with the decontrol discussions told a reporter that three cabinet members had helped Reconversion Director John R Steelman formulate the program.

This official said the three were Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Commerce Harriman and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach

Steelman held discussions two weeks ago with Harriman and Schwellenbach, Early this week he called them together again and they were joined by Snyder.

They decided, it was understood, that sweeping decontrol was the course that should be followed Steelman has recommended this to President Truman and reportedly expects the Chief Executive will endorse and announce the program in a few days

Officials in a position to know said Steelman outlined the far reaching decontrol plan at yesterday's full cabinet meeting and that no objections were raised

Under the plan virtually all price and wage controls except those on rents and the few food items still under ceilings—sugar, syrup and rice—would be lifted.

Garsson Case Closed, Senator Kilgore Says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Chairman Kilgore (D-WVa) of the committee investigating committee said today that as far as the committee was concerned the inquiry into the Garsson munitions case "is closed."

"The evidence has been turned over to the department of justice," he told reporters.

Asked whether Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky), whose name figures in the war contracts case, would be called before the committee again, Kilgore said:

"There is no evidence that May ever got a cent. If May wants to talk it is all right with us, but I don't want to put him on the stand and see him collapse." (May has been ill for some time).

GEORGIA FILES SUIT TO TAKE STATE CHARTER

Accuses Order of 1940 Hook-up; Alleges Continued Activities.

By The Associated Press

ATLANTA, Nov 9 — The state of Georgia charged the Ku Klux Klan today with attempting a 1940 merger with the German-American Bund, and accused the hooded order even now of seeking to weld ultra-nationalist veterans' groups and anti-Semitic, anti-Negro factions

Assistant Attorney General Daniel Duke, designated by Gov. Ellis Arnall to prosecute the Klan, filed the charges in Fulton (Atlanta) superior court as amendment to an earlier suit to revoke the Klan's charter

The amended petition was introduced coincident with state litigation to revoke the charter of a new anti-Negro, anti-Jewish organization called 'Columbians, Inc"

Charges Move To Merge

The petition says

In 1940, certain local Klans on the eastern seaboard made 'a definite, planned effort" to combine the Klan and the German-American Bund into one racially-supreme "all-Aryan" organization, and undertook joint operations to boycott Jewish, Catholic and Negro-owned business

"Similar activities were planned and executed by the order (Klan) in collaboration with racially like minded Fascist and Nazi organizations"

The petition continues:

"Samuel Stout, III, of Philadelphia, Klan grand dragon of Pennsylvania, worked and collaborated with Edward James Smythe, director of the Protestant war veterans, August Klapprott, deputy national fuehrer of the German-American Bund, Arthur H Belt, grand Kleagle of New Jersey; and James A Colescott, imperial wizard of the invisible empire, in arranging a joint meeting of the German-American Bund and the Ku Klux Klan Aug. 19, 1940, at Camp Nordland, Andover, N. J.

The state also charges that during 1934-1936 there were many instances of informal local mergers of the Klan and Silver Shirt groups, and "as early as 1934, Dr. Edward Rumley, probably the most highly paid German agent in America during the first World War, appeared at such meetings."

Violates Constitution

The state seeks charter revocation on grounds that the Klan "systematically is carrying out a policy designed to violate the rights of Georgia citizens guaranteed under the constitution of the state and of the United States"

The state alleges that additional

G.O.P. MAY PROPOSE WAGNER ACT CHANGE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9—Republicans may propose drastic revision of the Wagner labor relations act in some of the first bills dropped into the hopper of the 80th congress, Senator Ball (R-Minn) said today.

Ball, who will rank high on the new education and labor committee, told a reporter he and G O P. colleagues expect to draft amendments holding unions equally responsible with management under the act

He said the Republicans, who furnished most of the support for the so-called Case bill in the 79th congress, would seek early reenactment of some of its provisions. President Truman's veto laid the Case bill low, although one of its sections, the Hobbs "anti-racketeering" act, later became law with his signature

Ball said he would like to see an attempt made early in the session to legislative prohibitions against secondary boycotts, regulation of union welfare funds and provisions making unions subject to suit for violation of collective bargaining contracts.

Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor and a candidate for the next Republican presidential nomination, also urged changing the labor laws.

"Republicans will develop a progressive program in the house and senate," Stassen said in a radio interview. "There will be no repeal of social legislation. However, I do recommend amending the Wagner act to give employers the same freedom of speech as employes now enjoy."

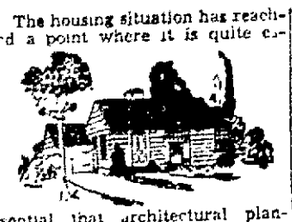
House Plan Aimed at Lowest Possible Cost for Modern Home

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

By W. Wadsworth Wood

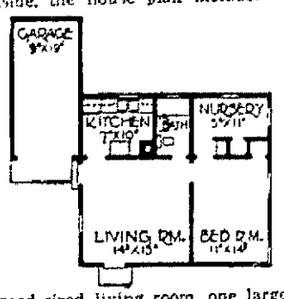
Absolute Minimum Sought in Housing Cost

The housing situation has reached a point where it is quite essential that architectural planning be reduced to ultra-economic room arrangement plus high-economy construction cost. Such a plan must embody simplicity of design so that the contractor can erect the house with a minimum of effort by labor, and a minimum of material purchased.



After considerable study by experts, the house illustrated has been developed as the "minimum best possibility" for the young married couple. Every foot of wood, and every nail required, have been considered. The net result is this 24 by 28 foot rectangular house, which offers everything considered essential to modern living.

Leaving all pretenses of luxury aside, the house plan includes a good-sized living room, one large bedroom, a small bedroom or nursery, a very complete kitchen, and a fully equipped bathroom. In short, all the conveniences to which the average American is accustomed. The garage showing may be incorporated in the original building program, or it may be built later, and the design of the house has been made with the deliberate idea of making that possible.



Fostering the idea of downright economy, it is suggested that the exterior of the house be covered with any material which is most readily and easily obtainable. It may be of brick, stone, stucco, shingle or clapboard. There is no necessity for a basement or cellar. The house may be built on a concrete slab, or upon concrete or brick piers. The interior will work out very well if finished in dry wall construction, and the floors may be of heavy plywood instead of the time-honored rough-and-finished flooring, with felt or building-paper between.

The roof may be finished and sheathed with roll-type roofing, and at a later date may be shingled.

The future possibilities of this minimum house are many. The rear nursery wall may be extended out to increase the size of the room. A hallway may be run across the rear of the main bedroom to lead into an additional bedroom extension. The present plan may be altered to make a fire-place in the living room by utilizing the kitchen chimney. (This has been left out to avoid the expensive masonry work). A long terrace may be built along the living and main bedroom fronts, and the windows cut down to French doors opening onto it.

The window locations as shown are optional, and can be changed or shifted as best fits the owners' requirements.

The entire idea behind the plan is flexibility in an economical four-square design. The prospective builder may lay the plan over from right to left, or from front to back and arrive at the same cubic footage in building cost, if such a procedure would better fit his conditions.

Removing Textured Paint

Q.: My bedroom has plastic paint on the walls. It is very thin and parts of the surface have cracked and peeled right off. Now I would like to hang wallpaper, but most of the paint is impossible to get off. Can you suggest some way to get it off?

A.: Break through the painted surface of the textured paint by rubbing with coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood. Then soak the surface with hot water to which some household ammonia is added. When the plastic coating is soft, remove it with a putty knife. Rinse the plaster afterward with clear water and allow to dry thoroughly. Try this in a corner of the room to see if the above solution will be effective.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Metal Edging on Sink

Q. My kitchen sink has a metal strip across its front that blackens my aprons as I lean against it to work. From time to time I have applied shellac to it but this eventually wears off. Is there something more permanent that I could apply?

A. Any finish will eventually wear off and must be renewed occasionally. Try this method: Clean the metal until bright, wipe with a non-inflammable spot removing liquid (benzine would do, but is not safe in a kitchen) and then apply two coats of top quality clear lacquer or varnish; the varnish may give a slight amber tone. I suggest that you try to replace the present metal trim with one made of stainless steel.

Cleaning Aluminum Pans

Q. What is the best way to clean aluminum pans so they'll be bright and shiny

A. Fill the pan with water mixed with cider vinegar in the proportion of a cupful to the quart. Bring to a boil and allow to stand overnight. Boiling tomatoes will also brighten the metal. The outside can have a going over with fine steel wool and scratchless scouring powder. (Wear gloves when using steel wool.)

Painting Window Shades

Q. I have a very large window shade that has been cleaned several times at the window and shade store. Now they can no longer clean it because there are rain streaks on it. Is there any preparation or dye that you know of that I could use myself on the shade?

A. If the rain streaks are only on the lower portion you may solve your problem by reversing the shade, tacking the lower edge on the roller and letting the upper portion, which should be cleaner, serve as the lower part. If this idea does not work, you may be able to paint it with a flat paint thinned with just enough turpentine for easy brushing. Experiment on the upper part of the shade next to the roller. If you use too heavy a paint it may crack when the shade is rolled up. Make sure the paint is dry before rolling the shade. I do not guarantee the success of these trials, as everything will depend on the quality of the fabric. (Dust should be wiped off before painting.)

Repainting Bathroom Walls

Q. The old paint on our bathroom walls was put on by former tenants and has a very uneven surface. How can I smooth off the walls with not too much expense or hard work?

A. To smooth the bathroom walls go over them with coarse sandpaper wrapped around a block of wood. This should serve, provided the paint is not peeling. Wipe off the dust and then repaint. My own preference would be first to apply a coat of aluminum paint in order to seal in the remains of the old paint; if you keep the same colors this will not be necessary. One coat of enamel undercoater and a final coat of enamel should suffice.

Here is a different, longer-wearing floor paint that "stays put." Paratex is not affected by the alkali (lime) in concrete. Easy to apply properly, and you get a surface that DOES NOT SOFTEN, BECOME STICKY, OR WASH OFF. It's highly resistant to acids, soaps, gasoline, oil—dries quickly, too. Use Paratex in basements, or porches, for garage, store, office, or similar floors — wood or concrete.

Quickly, Economically Installed

—no building alterations needed during installation

Eagle Insulation is blown into the attic floor with special pneumatic equipment. The job is done by specially trained workmen. There is no muss or fuss inside your home.

In hollow walls (wood, brick or stone veneer, or stucco), Eagle Insulation is quickly blown into place. You get benefit of a thick lining of insulation that is as efficient in shutting out summer heat and sealing in furnace warmth as a concrete wall 12-feet thick.

Lastingly effective because it is made of MINERAL WOOL

This wool is fused from carefully selected minerals—is filled with millions of tiny dead air cells which act as a barrier to the passage of heat and cold. Eagle Insulation is chemically and physically stable—retains its full comfort-bringing efficiency from year to year—pays for itself in fuel savings.

. . . because it is WATER REPELLENT

Eagle Insulation will retain its efficiency and remain a non-conductor of electricity. It will not "break down" in the presence of moisture nor settle in walls.

. . . because it is FIREPROOF

In walls and roof, Eagle Insulation forms a fire-retarding barrier. Many home-owners have had fire losses materially reduced simply because they had installed Eagle Insulation.

. . . because it is LIGHTWEIGHT

Eagle Insulation does not pack down in walls leaving uninsulated areas at the top through which heat and cold may pass freely. Tests show that Eagle Insulation is so remarkably lightweight that it does not settle—goes on giving full wall-high protection indefinitely.

Eagle insulation is made by the Eagle-Picher Lead Company, General Offices, Cincinnati, Ohio.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Paralysis

Inflammation of the brain is known as encephalitis. It may be produced by a number of different viruses such as Von Economo's type or the St. Louis type.

Following an attack of encephalitis a condition known as paralysis agitans or Parkinson's disease may occur. The symptoms of the paralysis agitans may very rarely develop within a few weeks but usually after a number of years following the encephalitis.

Paralysis agitans, however may develop in patients who have never had encephalitis. The exact cause in these cases is not known.

Paralysis agitans does not affect the sense organs, such as those of hearing, or of eyesight. It causes a tremor or trembling motion of the arms and hands and a lessening of muscular power. The patient usually bends forward when walking and has a tendency to pass from a walking to a running pace.

It is not a difficult matter to make a diagnosis of paralysis agitans. The cases produced by encephalitis or brain inflammation may occur at any age. All the other cases occur in those past middle age, with rare exceptions. The real problem in this disorder is to carry out treatment which will check the progress of the disorder.

According to Dr. Oscar Hawkinson of Oak Park, Ill., one of the most important things is to keep up the patient's morale. The patient should continue in some useful occupation as long as possible. A warm climate is desirable so that the patient can be kept in the open. The drugs which have been found most helpful are those coming from belladonna, sedative or quieting drugs, and those which help to relieve pain.

It is also suggested that care be taken to make sure that the patient gets all of the necessary vitamins in liberal amounts. This form of treatment will not produce a cure. However, certain operations have been devised which do seem to stop the tremor and rigidity of the muscles. Before such operations are carried out, however, the patients must be carefully studied to determine if there is any likelihood of the operation being of some value. Of course, operation should not be done if it might produce crippling paralysis even though it does relieve the tremor and rigidity. The operation does not in any way interfere with normal mentality.

Salvation Army Plans Rally

MRS. BERTRAM RODDA

MRS. HAROLD A. ZEALLEY

The local Salvation Army corps will be host to the Northern Sectional Home League rally to be held Wednesday with special guests from headquarters in Cincinnati and New York City. Speakers will be Mrs. Harold A. Zealley, wife of Major Zealley, divisional commander of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Bertram Rodda, Territorial Home League secretary of New York City. Other guests will be Mrs. Major Horace Weatherly, Mrs. Adjutant Wilbur Smith, Mrs. Major George Baggs, Mrs. Major Paul Harvey and Adjutant Beatrice Fowle all of Cincinnati.

A noon luncheon for Home League locals will be held at the First Reformed and Evangelical church and in the evening, also at the church, will be a supper meeting for all delegates, members of the advisory board, their wives and friends. The supper is at 5:15 p. m.

Meeting Wednesday.

Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Home League council at Calvary Evangelical church where services also will be held in the evening at 7 o'clock. At the evening service a pageant will be presented. Each woman is asked to bring a Christmas gift for overseas distribution. Included in the gift should be the name and address of the donor and a message. Gift suggestions include towels, pillow cases, sheets, quilts, baby clothes, soap and other practical and needed articles.

Mrs. Rodda, who will be a guest speaker, has had a wide experience in women's activities, one of her most successful projects being the organization of specialized women's club groups within the framework of the Salvation Army Home League program. She has done administrative work in connection with camps for mothers and children and has been active in musical training and the training of teachers for The Salvation Army.

A native of Ansonia, Conn., she is the daughter of distinguished Salvation Army parents, her father, the late Col. Walter Jenkins having been national secretary under General Evangeline Booth. After her graduation from the Salvation Army Training college for officers she served as field officer in Oswego, N. Y., until her marriage. She is the wife of Col. Bertram Rodda, chief secretary for the Army's Eastern territory and has two sons, one of whom served as a naval officer and the other as an instructor in the Army Air Corps.

The Home League is a vital part of the corps life in all lands where the Army is at work. It is the women's organization calling for advancement of ideal home life through Christian fellowship, with a program to fill spiritual, educational and recreational needs.

Performs War Duties.

The branches of the Home League throughout the country assumed a lion's share of the Army's World War II activities, using superbly to a wide variety of calls of help.

They undertook innumerable emergency tasks — providing refreshments for troops in transit, making tags for nearby arsenals, furnishing special comforts for the wounded in hospitals and raising funds for many a worthy local cause. Their continuous output of knitted garments, utility kits, and other comforts for the armed forces, layettes for servicemen's wives, fracture pillows, slippers, afghans, and other aids for the wounded reached astronomical proportions.

The pots-war work of these women's groups embraces among other important fields, the readjustment of war-working wives to domestic living and the making of home life more attractive for returned veterans.

The long range aim of the Home League continues to be "a better world through better homes."

This makes up for a lot!

AT long last you slip behind the wheel of your very own Buick.

You look around a minute — straighton your tie — grin a little at the handsome picture you know you must be making.

You turn the key. Step on the starter-treadle. Feel those eight big Fireball cylinders take silken hold.

Easy as a breeze, you slip away in two agile tons of steady-going levelness — and right then and there a lot that was dark is clear.

You see why this car is the most wanted automobile in America today.

You see why this doubles the problem posed by industry-wide slowness of parts and material flow.

You see why Buick production men are gladly putting every waking hour into ceaseless battle against such log-jams, so that they can supply these sweethearts to the greatest possible number.

You see how quickly a wait can be forgotten — when there's something like this at the end of the wait.

What matters is that this is the best Buick yet.

It's available at OPA prices applying at delivery and — though we like to get trade-ins — with or without a car to trade.

Those things add up to the best deal these times afford anywhere.

No More Paper Promises

AMERICAN insistence on adequate inspection and enforcement if arms limitation is tried again is the caution of a nation that doesn't want to be fooled twice.

The United States went all-out for disarmament after World War I. Being more naive than it was safe to be, it tried to set a good example. Also, being penny-wise and pound-foolish, it begrudged its military establishments the cost of their upkeep.

This played into the hands of the belligerent powers. As recently as a few months before the belligerents renewed their attack on the peaceful nations, Americans were arguing solemnly about Charles Lindbergh's astonishing statement that Germany possessed the world's best air force. Germany couldn't have an air force. Many of them concluded that Lindbergh was a traitor or a fool. All Americans knew that Russia couldn't fight its way out of a paper bag. Italy was a comic opera military power. The Japanese could be brought to heel in two weeks, three weeks at the most. There could be no war because the nations were not equipped to fight. They said so.

The only close guess in the list was Italy, which proved to be a comic opera military power, with tragic overtones. Beginning in June 1940 when Germany rolled over France and threatened Britain, and coming to a climax with Pearl Harbor, there were shocking revelations every day of what the belligerent powers had been doing while they mouthed the jargon of disarmament, arms limitation and international good will. Americans pledged themselves with each fresh rebuff and each additional sacrifice of life and treasure never to be fooled again. That is why their spokesmen in the United Nations assembly are justified in taking the position that this government never again will take arms limitations seriously unless it is accompanied by inspection and enforcement.

No Personal Choice

REAR ADMIRAL ROSS T. McINTIRE'S now-it-can-be-told story of Franklin D. Roosevelt's pique during the 1940 Democratic convention and his angry decision to refuse the party's presidential nomination, falls into the category of things that could have happened but probably wouldn't have happened.

Mr. Roosevelt's refusal never got outside the White House. If it had, it might never have got outside the Democratic convention. In any event, it probably would have been reconsidered for the obviously reason that in 1940 Mr. Roosevelt had no personal choice in the matter of running for a third term. He had done nothing to overcome a vacuum of leadership in the Democratic party; there was no one else on whom the party could bestow the presidential nomination. Four years later, when Mr. Roosevelt was obviously in such wretched health that only a miracle would enable him to live out a fourth term, the party still had no one else on whom it could bestow its nomination. The fight over the nomination of his probable successor finally was settled by naming Harry Truman. Mr. Truman has been an illustration, if one were needed, of the reason why the Democratic party had to run Franklin D. Roosevelt for president in 1940 and 1944. There was no one else.

Once Was Enough

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S official declaration that the United States will keep all the island bases it can use in the Pacific is not open to international controversy. Any attempt to argue about it would be an act of bad faith.

The United States spent its war energy in the Pacific on the tremendous project of dislodging Japan from the strategic islands it acquired between World War I and World War II. Japan had developed the islands as staging areas for attack or bastions for defense. After being driven from the Aleutians and losing the battle of Midway, the Japanese militarists used them for one of the most formidable defenses ever thrust into an enemy's path.

As the only sea power capable of dealing with Japan, the United States made all the sacrifices to overcome Japan's advantage in holding the islands it had been given or had seized after World War I. It had no help. For any United States politician to say anything else than that the islands still in American possession will stay there as long as they are needed would be to insult every marine, soldier and sailor who helped to wrest them from Japan. Whether the possession be called ownership, trusteeship, or something else is of no consequence. But it will be possession.

Foreign Policy in Making

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Bipartisan Ideas Eventually Become National Plan.

WE might ask ourselves when it is that a bipartisan conduct of foreign affairs is necessary and workable. The answer, I think, is: When almost everyone agrees that the country needs a united foreign policy, although it is not yet settled just what the policy ought to be. For whenever it is necessary to work out a bipartisan arrangement, it is a sure sign that new decisions are in the making. Bipartisanship is an arrangement by public-spirited men for dealing with those critical periods when a policy is forming but is not yet formed.

If and when a policy is fully formed and proved, it ceases to be bipartisan and becomes national.

For more than a century, for example, no one has thought of the Monroe doctrine as depending on bipartisan agreement. The essential principle of the Monroe Doctrine — that the Western Hemisphere is closed to imperial expansion and to intervention by non-American powers—has been so well settled that either party, any president, would uphold it and would have the united support of the people when he did uphold it. It has been, in this sense, more than bipartisan; it has been national.

Policy Long Forming

But it took about thirty years for the country to reach this point of settled agreement. During the first years of the republic, when Europe and the world were engaged in the Napoleonic wars, the country was dangerously divided on party lines, and became twice involved—first on one side and then on the other of that world war.

The infant republic had not yet found its own line of vital interest and policy. Only about eight years after the end of that world war did an American policy emerge. It was established as a result of bipartisan consultation and agreement in Monroe's administration, and it was so well conceived that in its essentials it was the foreign policy of all Americans for the remainder of the century.

Since 1914, and indeed since the Spanish War of 1898, the country has again been in the throes of forming a new foreign policy. Only parts of it are, even now, well settled — for example that the United States has vital interests in the whole region of the Pacific. The presidential election of 1900 was fought hotly with this as a leading issue. Many years passed before there was such sufficient agreement about the Pacific and the Far East that Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Democrat, could defend at the risk of war with Japan the interest in China and the far Pacific which was first declared against tremendous internal opposition here at home, by Theodore Roosevelt and John Hay and Elihu Root.

Even at the end of the first World war our Far Eastern policy was still so unsettled that Mr. Hughes, when he was secretary of state, had to operate through a bi-partisan arrangement with the Democratic leaders of the Senate.

New Policy Forming

We are now in the process of forming an American national policy for Europe and the Middle East. It is agreed by almost everyone now that the United States is vitally interested. But no one, literally no one, is quite clear and certain what our interest is and how it is to be implemented. A bipartisan arrangement may be necessary until a settlement in Europe is reached which permits us to have a settled policy in relation to Europe. That will surely take a good many years.

Some important aspects of the new policy have, however, reached the point where our position no longer depends on a bipartisan arrangements and has become the national position. I do not think we are counting our chickens before they are hatched if we say that full and active participation in the United Nations is now a settled national policy. We can say also, I think, that the determination is fixed to play a leading part in the settlement of the war; the country will not withdraw from the settlement as it did in 1920.

But the part it will play in the settlement is still experimental, unclarified and indeterminate. There, is no use pretending that the excellent working arrangement represented by Secretary Byrnes and Senator Vandenberg is operating on a clear and well considered conception of how the world war should be settled. That is something to be worked for. It is not something which has already been achieved.

The eventual form of American policy towards Europe and Asia will depend in very large measure on whether there can be a political settlement in the world while the Republican party adjusts itself to the fact that in the conduct of internal affairs 1947 is not and cannot be 1920.

For we face the fact that we have to make a world settlement while the Republicans, who are rising to power, are profoundly uncertain as to what the modern age requires of them.

Just a Minute

Down To the Sea In Phone Booths

The navy is installing ship-to shore telephone service for the benefit of its sailors.

Shades of Captain Bligh.

Modern science is a wonderful thing. Not even Alexander Graham Ameche ever visualized amphibious pay-stations.

To such famous naval expressions as "Don't give up the ship" and "Damn the torpedoes—Full speed ahead," will shortly be added another: "Deposit another five cents, please, your three minutes are up."

In time, of course, an economy-minded congress will get around to debating a retrenchment program which includes, among other things, a party-line navy.

Meanwhile, modern sailors can have a wrong number in every port.

Incidentally, I'd hate to be around the first time the Secretary of Navy is unable to reach the admiral on account of some gob is phoning sweet inconsequentials to his tootsie.

After Election Speculation

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE first flood of speculation, after Tuesday's election, concerns 1948. Most of this speculation will be wasted effort. Human beings rush from the unfolding of one unknown to the next. But too many unknows must become known before wise people will begin predicting candidates and winning parties.

Some of those who depend heavily on precedent say that a change in the presidency always follows a change in party control in congress. This is only partially true. The facts reveal notable exceptions. It is best to begin with the founding of the Republican party, because prior to that party divisions were confused. In 1854, more Republicans than Democrats were elected, although the balance was held by 43 from "other parties." But in 1856, the Democratic party retained the presidency. In 1878 the Democrats won the house, but did not win the presidency in 1880. In 1886 the Democrats won the house but lost the presidency in 1888. In 1930 the Republicans won the mid-term test, 220-214, but lost the presidency in 1932. In 1931, however when the house met the Republican majority was in the grave. Garner was elected speaker, and the Democrats controlled the house. The rule, therefore, has had four exceptions. If we put it another way, we find that while there were eight party changes in the presidency since 1860, the house changed six times, in 1858, 1882, 1890, 1894, 1910 and 1918.

More Than History Needed.

It will take something more than history to elect a Republican president in 1948.

Speculation on Republican candidates will center, for the most part, on the same names that were prominent in 1944—Thomas E. Dewey, John W. Bricker and Harold E. Stassen. There will also be speculation about Earl Warren of California and Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut. Unquestionably, Dewey will be a leading contender, despite his defeat in 1944. There will be rivalry, more or less suppressed, between Bricker and Taft. Stassen will mobilize the more progressive forces among Republicans, who may, with many recruits among the new senators and congressmen, be a formidable challenge to old-line Republican leadership.

Lausche Defeated.

One Democrat, who might have been a rallying point for Democrats opposed to the renomination of Truman, Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, has been defeated. Henry Wallace Democrats may claim that Truman caused the debacle at this election and try to supplant him.

Thus, both parties will have strong factional troubles.

One factor, potent in winning presidential elections, will be economic. If, as many prophets suggest, we are to have a mild recession in business, it will almost certainly be charged by Democrats to the Republican victory. The strength of this issue will depend on the length and depth of the predicted recession.

In any event, we should be spared the monotony of hearing from Republicans that Communists or President Truman or the New Deal is responsible for our future ills. The Republicans have the power now and they should behave like a responsible party.

ONLY THE START

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Nov. 9, 1936.

The Army chief of staff, Gen. Malin Craig, sought establishment of a large new reserve of fighting men ready to augment a modernized regular army in time of danger.

An Armistice day program was presented by William Laughman, watchman of shepherds, and members of the choir, at a meeting of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barnhart of East Walnut street.

W. D. Brown, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "Civic Activities" in the weekly dinner meeting of the Service club at Hotel Harding.

A plea for greater caution by motorists using county roads was made to the 88 "students" attending the Junior Chamber of Commerce Drivers' school, by Deputy Sheriff W. W. Willis. A highlight of the session was conferring of diplomas on 42 motorists who had completed the four-lesson course Covers were placed for 33 at a potluck supper when the Ben Hur Literary club met with Mrs. J. J. Francis of Harding Highway W. with Mrs. Charles Mort as an associate hostess.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Nov. 9, 1926

A movement to establish the office of a building inspector in the city of Marion was launched at a meeting of the city council when ordinances were introduced, one creating the office, another providing regulations for chimney and fireplaces and a third fixing requirements for electrical wiring. Council adopted a redistricting ordinance dividing the city into six wards to replace the old four-ward arrangement.

Mrs. Martha T. Keller, granddaughter of Major Busby, one of Marion's founders, died at her home on East Center street. She was 81 years old.

Eunice Pauline, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Rinehart of North Main street, died of diphtheria.

William T. Tschanen, 71, for years an Upper Sandusky druggist and part owner of a drug store formerly operated in Marion, died at his home in Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. S. G. Rosenberg gave a report of the Central district convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs held in Delaware, at a meeting of the Women's Century club at the home of Miss Nell Freer on Girard avenue.

Bad Times for Moderates

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—After the excitement of the election, a good many of the more long headed politicians in both parties are beginning to ask themselves precisely what the sweeping Republican victory portends for the future. Above all, they are beginning to worry about the growing power of the extremists of both the right and the left to exercise a kind of polar attraction for the moderates.

Already, it is apparent that this power has been greatly intensified by the election. On the one hand, the magnitude of the Republican victory has undoubtedly increased the strength of the more unbending conservatives in the party, since it is felt that there is no longer any need to make reluctant concessions towards progressivism. On the other hand, evidence is accumulating that the prediction long made in this space, of the formation of a left-wing third party, will shortly be substantiated. In New York, the report was that the decision had already been taken to launch this third party movement under the name of the "People's Party."

Prime Movers.

The prime movers would, of course, be the American Communists and fellow travelers. They would carry with them, however, a great many of the perfectly sincere but deluded American progressives, in the Labor movement and out of it, who still believe in the united front strategy. Senator Claude Pepper, whose last remaining political support in Florida has now evaporated, has undoubtedly been planning for some time to be a leader in such a third party movement. The unfortunate Henry A. Wallace has recently been far less stern in his rejection of the third party idea. If it is true that he is now much under the influence of Lee Pressman, he may be expected to go along in the end. Perhaps, as a concession to Wallace and others like him, the new movement will at first take the form of an enlarged and improved PAC, embracing a much wider field of action. Such an organization could later be transformed into a true political party as the involvement of its leaders became more complete. At any rate, it is clear that something of this sort is in the wind.

The purpose of the real founders of the movement—the American Communists—will, of course, be precisely contrary to the announced purposes of the party itself. They know, as all practical politicians know that a third party cannot hope to make real headway in the United States for many practical reasons such as the nature of the electoral laws.

The influence of such inheritors of the New Deal mantle as Harold L. Ickes will be all the other way, and the American Communists have no more effective opponent than Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, so long and unjustly rumored to be friendly towards them. Yet the task of such leaders as Mrs. Roosevelt will be made difficult, not only by the condition of the labor movement, but also by that of the Democratic party itself.

Within the Labor movement, the Communist issue is coming to a head, as was clearly indicated at the October meeting of the UAW executive board. At this meeting Philip Murray looked squarely at the Communist-supported George Addes; denounced the Communists in even angrier terms than he used at Chicago, and stated he expected full support from the auto workers in any future trouble within the CIO. The trouble inside the CIO will be bad when it comes. As for the Democratic party, it too is riven in a very different manner. The unprecedented victory of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in the city of Boston, along with several other signs, suggest that the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic church threw its influence this time toward the Republicans in several areas.

Just to round off this depressing panorama, there is the matter of the coal strike. Although his political advisers told the unhappy President Truman that his best method of saving the election would be to take legal action against John L. Lewis, he preferred the council of Dr. John Steelman. Steelman, who is now widely regarded in labor circles as Lewis's man inside the White House, has apparently already prepared the way for wage concessions to Lewis. If these concessions are made, the internecine rivalry of the labor movement will force Murray and the CIO to present their own new wage demands. That, in turn, will bring another round of strikes.

WHO threw that?

Was it a national election or another atom bombing?

The song of the moment seems to be "Oh say, can you see by the polls' early blight?

Even Henry Wallace and Claude Pepper are radically speechless.

With most of the returns in, the Democratic party looks like something only John Henry could describe.

The voting public had been oversold on the idea that only a Democrat is good to his mother and that all Republicans beat their wives.

Millions of voters adopted the slogan "Always change barrels going over Niagara Falls if you suddenly find you have nothing around you but the hoops!"

It was not so much an election as a national decontrol drive, with the ceilings off scalping knives. Many were the reasons, but the chief one was a feeling that the American scene had become too much like a Salvador Dali painting and that Uncle Sam should always be kept distinguishable from Humpty Dumpty.

Admitting that under the New Deal there were broad social gains and a better break for lots of people, the time has come when the people are tired of strikes, picket lines, mediators, radio agitators, meat substitutes, snafu, general "confuddlement," bureaucracy unlimited and the constant crack "Sorry, but we can't get the stuff!"

The voters wanted a soup-bone in every pot and at least two nickels in every dollar. And it seemed to some as if all the Democrats were offering were two arbitration boards in every garage and a phonographic recording by Wallace in every pot.

But we can't see why the Democrats should kick. They have been in office, boy and man, since the days of button shoes, tandems, Burnside whiskers, ruffled drawers and Keystone Comedies. And the American people, blitzed as they have been out of many traditions, still cling to the one about giving the other side a chance.

It is this column's conviction that millions of Americans who are liberal and a little inclined toward the Democrats finally got sick of the claims that every Republican who aspires to public service in America is a louse, a polecat and an enemy of the people.

In spots the Democrats were treated so brutally it may be another case for the War Crimes Tribunal.

But cheer up, New Dealers- Nobody should expect to hang on forever, even with the Wagner Act, the Pentagon and Sinatra on his side.

P. S.—Whatever became of Jim Mead? Or was he a late scratch?

Things we didn't know until now: That Congressman Sol Bloom got his start in life as boss of the Midway at the Chicago World's Fair and that he invented and produced the first hoochy-coochy show in America there. Fiorello LaGuardia, one of Sol's best friends, says so in a laudatory article, urging his reelection. The campaign so far has been pretty uninteresting and we regard this development as terrific. To anybody who has watched congress function it is obvious that a hoochy-cooch dance background must be mighty helpful.

It strikes us that Mr. Molotov will show his temper as soon as he gets around and discovers what is being sold in Russian restaurants in America as Russian food.

Next Time, Maybe

By TRUMAN TWILL

When election day has passed and a soggy campaign poster is flapping in the wind and rain of a November storm, that is the time to remember, ladies and gentlemen, that your candidate was resolute, honest and forthright.

He was prudent, resourceful and careful of the taxpayers' money. He looked upon public office as a public trust. Born a poor boy in a simple frame house on the wrong side of the tracks, he lifted himself by diligence and cheerfulness to a place of high honor in the community.

All who had occasion to know him well gave him their unqualified endorsement for the high office he sought. He was a friend of the people and stood staunch and true in defense of those sacred principles of constitutional democracy for which our forefathers were willing to give their lives and their fortunes.

He was a man among men, a shining tribute to the American way of life. Born in a simple frame house on the wrong side...as has been mentioned before.. he performed all the humble chores of boyhood. His sterling character shaped by juvenile triumph and adversity came into flower when he became a member of the armed forces, there to distinguish himself still further by many attributes.

His wife, whom he met at a church social where else does a politician ever meet a cute one except in a classroom? ..was a simple, sweet woman devoted to her home and her umpteen fine children, Twiddledee, Twiddledum and Junior. She was intensely interested in everything her husband did, shared his problems and always could be counted on for an encouraging word, but naturally preferred to let good old whatsizname make the political speeches.

Her devoted husband had given cheerfully of his time in performance of good works. He was chairman of the Iddleties and a past president of the Zoops. He was a faithful member of the church, and also a good fellow withal, capable of telling a clean story over a glass of fruit punch, a resolute honest and forthright citizen, prudent, resourceful and careful of the taxpayers' money, as has been pointed out before.

He was young enough to tackle the job, old enough to have experience, positive, and a man who knew the value of a dollar. He was definitely headed for bigger and better things and a fellow worth keeping your eye on, according to the Bazooka Bugle. Furthermore, he was a lifelong resident and a man known and loved by thousands as friend, counsellor and advocate. In fact, counting one thing and another, he made George Washington, Abe Lincoln, Andy Jackson and Bob Hope look insignificant because he was all of them.

It's too bad he got licked.

Save all the old campaign literature you can round up, friends. Coal is likely to be scarce this winter.

Peculiarities

A Sermonette

By REV. ALBERT M. HOOD

Pastor of Second Pilgrim Holiness Church

ACCORDING to the Word of God, the people who have been purchased by the Blood of the Lamb of God, born into the family of God, and are members of God, "A peculiar people."

Many scripture verses attest to the fact that God calls us "peculiar." Exodus 19:5 "Now therefore if ye will obey my voice indeed and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for all the earth is Mine:—", and again in Deuteronomy 14:2, "For thou art a holy people unto the Lord thy God, and the Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all nations that are upon the earth." In Jeremiah 26:18, "And the Lord hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou should keep all his commandments . . ." A New Testament reference in I Peter 2:9, "But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light."

In all the scriptural references we would call your attention to one in Titus 2:14, "Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." Thank God, he begins a work here in our hearts and lives, so that he might take us to a place that must be a peculiar place to those in sin, for there is no sin there, yea no sorrow, no sickness, pain, nor death, and all tears shall be wiped away forever. Amen.

"Peculiar," thank God, he is preparing us "a peculiar treasure," "a peculiar people" purchased, redeemed by the blood of his Son, to be His for all eternity.

Our peculiarity begins in having an heavenly envoy to come in the search for us. Yes, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God," and the thundering march of the ages is but the tramp of the multitude away from God and godliness. In sin, lost on the cold mountain side, on the bleak desert, or entangled in the undergrowth of this world's allurements, the Christ of God, Come to seek and to save that which was lost." Unworthy, sinful, unmindful of our Lord, isn't it odd that one could love us so, that in mercy he seeks out our heart and the peculiar work of God is begun.

Christ, through the Holy Spirit, having found us, begins the work of convicting our heart of our waywardness, our life without God and for Satan. It is then that the person under Holy Ghost conviction is moved to do many things that to the onlooker are peculiar, yet in the life of the seeker it is the peculiar life in its beginning.

Having been convicted, and known our state of heart, God bids us to "confess our sins and be ye saved." To the unbeliever it is a thing on the salvation of the soul is a peculiarity indeed. Oh, what wonder, that the newborn child of God, redeemed by the blood, flooded with divine grace and singing . . .

Redeemed! redeemed!
My grateful heart keeps singing peculiar as it may seem to anyone, God is working out the "purifying unto himself a peculiar people."

Led by the Holy Ghost of God we do the distinctly peculiar in coming to Christ, we "take up our cross and follow Him." The leadership of the Spirit brings us into the sanctified experience, the "crucifixion of the old man of sin," and the infilling of the fullness of the Holy Ghost. No wonder that we become a gazing stock, and many look upon us, shaking their heads, say "what a peculiar person."

Having died to things of time, flesh and the world, we live, move and have our being in the realm of God's holy will. We live constantly under the "Shadow of the Almighty" and are led by His hand. The child of God finds it no peculiarity to be able to sing when the skies are darkest, for God said "He giveth songs in the night", they can smile in the difficulties and carry on midst greatest obstacles.

The called of God find it not peculiar as they bid farewell to those near and dear, to pour out their lives in service to God at home or abroad, yet the world looks on saying, "How peculiar." They know not that Christ tells us, "Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the world." Yea, at the altar of sacrifice, to smile, as we yield all to the will of God, knowing, "He will perfect that which concerneth thee."

Yes, God gave his Son, Jesus Christ, then Christ gave himself, that he might "purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." Thank God, he begins a work here in our hearts and lives, so that he might take us to a place that must be a peculiar place to those in sin, for there is no sin there, yea no sorrow, no sickness, pain, nor death, and all tears shall be wiped away forever. Amen.

"Peculiar," thank God, he is preparing us "a peculiar treasure," "a peculiar people" purchased, redeemed by the blood of his Son, to be His for all eternity.

BETTER HEALTH FOR BETTER LIVING

● The last three decades have brought many changes in matters pertaining to health. The normal span of life has been increased materially. Consider diabetes, for example. Diabetes was first recognized about the time of Moses, or 200 years before the birth of King Tut. Yet, it was not until 1922 that a specific remedy was discovered. Today, through the use of Insulin and a balanced diet, the diabetic can reasonably expect to live about as long as anybody. Your physician will promptly recognize the symptoms of diabetes. He knows all about the treatment. And remember this, all advertised cures for diabetes are questionable. Don't be victimized by the swindlers

Youth Christian Movement Marks First Anniversary Here

A large attendance marked the first anniversary fellowship luncheon meeting of the Marion United Christian Youth Movement yesterday at First United Brethren Community house. Several long tables were filled when members and guests of the group were served. Anne Baldwin, U.C.Y.M. president, was in charge and Rev. Ben DuVal of Trinity Methodist church, Columbus, spoke on "Where Are You Going?"

The program was arranged in observance of one year of luncheon sessions set up by the interdenominational young people's organization, with the aid of interested older persons, for high school pupils of the city. U.C.Y.M. is the youth division of the Marion County Council of Churches. The luncheons are held every other Friday in downtown Marion churches.

Jones Leads Singing

L. G. Jones of the public school music department led fellowship singing which was accompanied by Theresa Maffett. Barbara McDonald sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Anne Fergusen. Guests included other teachers, A. C. May, principal of Harding High school, and Mrs. May, Misses Marian Conley, Margaret Wolfley and Lucile Foreman of the Harding faculty, Miss Lydia Ebel and Miss Nancy McKerlie-Dodds, instructors of week-day religious education in the public schools, Miss Margaret Huffman and Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastoral advisor of the group last year.

"Humanity is on the march," Rev. DuVal said, in opening his message. "Nobody knows where. This must be changed. It is important that we know. Are we headed for a new state of chaos? Or do we know that we are headed for a new and better world order? Will it be war or peace, exploitation of men or opportunity for all, the City of God, or the city of destruction?

Time of Crisis

"You were born and have lived all your life in a time of crisis, of rapid social changes which seems to you almost the pattern of normalcy. You have seen the dawn of the atomic age, definitely a new period of time. The question is, having the 'knowledge of God without the character of God,' will man use his moral will and intelligence to make this great new energy work for the benefit of man?

"There seems to be no clear sense of direction, no conception of the City of God generally today. What a tremendous opportunity for Christian young people, working together, if they have the will to mold this better world. It will take a Christian philosophy of life to do this. Timidity will get you nowhere. There must be daring. Disbelief and cynicism won't build a world. These lead only to suicide. Follow Christ to a world worth having. See life problems as they are, where they are.' In these problems, race, military might, power politics, peace, slow decision, action and courage. Work to make the world Christian. The world is on the march. Your generation must do the marching."

UN LOOKS FOR NEW QUARTERS

Debate Several Sites After Assurance G.O. P. Won't Change Policy.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—The 51 United Nations delegations, cheered by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's Republican party assurance of an unchanged American foreign policy geared to the UN search for peace, are looking for a permanent headquarters.

First reaction to Vandenberg's post-election pledge of wholehearted American cooperation with the UN was entirely favorable and it was looked upon as a promise that the incoming majority party in congress had no intention of fostering any vestige of isolationism.

Vandenberg, himself approaching the topmost level among American foreign policy-makers, stated an apparent adherence to the bi-partisan character of the United States' policy in international affairs.

The Republican senator from Michigan, who served alongside Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, through all the recent difficult negotiations for peace and now for peace-keeping, was brief but pointed in his forward-looking statement to the UN yesterday.

In the course of a reiterated objection to the United States paying half the UN administrative budget for 1947, running over $23,000,000, he said:

"I reassert, with whatever authority I possess, that regardless of what political regime sits in Washington, you can count upon the whole-hearted cooperation of the government of the United States in striving, through the United Nations, for a system of mutual defense against aggression and for organized peace—with justice in a better, safer and happier world."

Johnsville Veteran Returns Home With Czech War Bride

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ferguson arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ferguson of near Johnsville, Tuesday, following an air trip from Prague, Czechoslovakia that started Nov. 2.

Mrs. Ferguson is the former Miloslava Vildova of Stenovice. They were married Sept. 27 at her home.

Ferguson met his bride while a liaison pilot with the Secon Division under General Hodges. He plans to return to his job with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber Co.

"FIRST LADY"

was helping her father campaign for governor.

"It was my first campaign," she related. "I was in school when Dad ran for attorney general. I tried to keep all my campaigning on the personal side, though.

"People like to discuss their problems," she continued, "how many grandchildren they have and occasionally their physical ailments. That's where my nurse's training proved useful."

Musical Family

Although Mrs. Stevers mentioned nursing frequently, she also expressed her love of music, which is shared by her entire family.

"When Dad is at home, we sing as a quartet, with him playing the piano. Johnny, my brother at Culver Military academy and who is 16, usually takes the lead and we sing around him.

"Other times when Dad is away, we three make up a trio."

If their plans work out, they will be singing as a quartet Thanksgiving for the first time in several months.

Dad will move to the mansion and Johnny will be at home from Culver. They hope to make the occasion a holiday such as any family would enjoy.

The frequency with which she mentioned her brothers proved Mrs. Stevers' statement that she could not talk about herself alone.

"Our family is too closely knit," she explained. "We always have been and our music gives us even more pleasure together."

Then she gave a faint sigh.

"So you can see how we'll welcome an opportunity to settle down for a bit. Why, in between the campaigning I've been doing for Dad. I've been doing some rushing at O.S.U. for the Delta Gammas, to which I belonged there."

Ohioans can take one tip on their new first lady.

If they ever want to know anything about their governor, to which church he belongs, whether he is a Mason, or any other fact like that, Mrs. Stevers always will be accessible.

And she will give the answers with the same friendly interest with which they are sought.

COMMERCE CHAMBER HEARS HARRIMAN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9 — The Ohio Chamber of Commerce concluded its 53rd annual convention last night after W. Averell Harriman, new secretary of commerce, said freedom from want was essential to world pace.

Harriman, addressing a banquet of the two-day meeting last night, declared:

"We have the know-how in industry and agriculture which other peoples need. Now is the time when American imagination and courage can give leadership and hope to the people of the world."

Assurance of worldwide peace, Harriman said in his first public appearance since replacing Henry A. Wallace in President Truman's cabinet, hinges on the ability of all people to attain freedom from want.

Harriman said he returned from London and Moscow convinced that "preservation of our free society and personal freedoms that permit each of us as an individual to develop his own life" were "of all-embracing importance."

Father Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), who directed the victorious Republican congressional campaign, told the convention the 80th congress' greatest responsibility will be the "housecleaning that must come."

C. I. Weaver of Springfield, Ohio Fuel Gas Co. president, is the new president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, succeeding the late A. Graves Williams of Portsmouth. Since Williams' death last June, Weaver had been acting president.

Roy D. Moore Tells Clinic Advertising Must Benefit Advertiser.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9—Some 215 delegates to Ohio State university's advertising copy clinic today discussed a suggestion from Roy D. Moore, president of Brush - Moore Newspapers, Inc., of Canton, that "greater service to the advertiser" should be the "primary responsibility" of the advertising business.

In an address last night before advertising men from newspapers, radio stations, agencies, department stores and business firms, Moore, chairman of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, declared:

"The bureau of advertising does not believe advertising should be a hit and miss operation. Certainly we should know more about our own commodity * * * about cost variations, distribution and sales potentials."

"It is a fact, also developed conclusively by some of the bureau's delving into its proper business, that many manufacturers of nationally advertised products actually do not know where their sales are consummated. * * * The bureau is trying to solve this problem by store inventory and other studies—and I think we are succeeding," Moore continued.

"There are many non-advertisers, who need the help of advertising to expand their businesses," Moore explained. "Similarly," he added, "there are many who need the sincere and intelligent help of their medium to do their job more effectively. There are others, unquestionably, who are using the wrong medium or using it in the wrong manner."

"It is our job—the medium's job—to see that the shoes we sell fit the feet for which they are intended," he pointed out.

Moore suggested to delegates "that we can all afford to devote our talents and our interest to greater service to the advertiser, rather than to the exclusive and self-centered advancement of a particular medium."

"I very sincerely believe," he asserted, "that a medium which does the best job for the advertiser will receive its proper recognition."

On the afternoon speaking program was William Bennett of the advertising department of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Chicago, Ill., who spoke on "Retail Advertising Copy."

Other afternoon and evening speakers and their subjects were: Aesop Glim, copy analyst and author, "Good Copy Doesn't Just Happen;" L. C. MacGlaschan, vice president of the Gardner Advertising Co., St. Louis, Mo., "Advertising Headlines;" Mrs. Betty Kidd of the N. W. Ayer and Sons, Inc., "The Feminine Slant in Copy;" Allen Sikes, bureau of advertising, American Newspaper Publisher's association, New York, "More Power in Newspaper Advertising," Dr. Vergil D. Reed, associate director of research, the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency, New York, "Market and Distribution Trends;" and A. L. Scaife, advertising and promotion manager, General Electric, Bridgeport, Conn., "Budget Makeup To Meet Today's Conditions."

Co-Ed Who Found Money To Share Her Reward With Friend

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., Nov. 9 — Miss Lucy Hall, 19-year-old Miami university student from Portsmouth, O., said today she would share with her campus roommate a $150 reward she received for finding $575 in cash and $5,413 in endorsed checks lost by a Cincinnati brewing company executive.

An envelope containing the money and checks was dropped by Sam Lipman, president of the Cincinnati Brewing Co., on Oct. 25 as he made business calls.

That night, Portsmouth police called to report that Miss Hall had turned over the money to them.

She had found the envelope in a gutter here as she hurried to the terminal to catch a bus for Portsmouth and a weekend with her parents. She had carried the envelope with her because she was reluctant to display "so much money" in the crowded terminal and bus.

Lipman praised her honesty and promised to "reward her handsomely."

She received the check from Lipman yesterday and said she would share it with Miss Joan Bradshaw of Lucasville. Miss Hall explained:

"As a matter of fact, Joan picked up the envelope first, thinking someone had lost a letter but she dropped it back on the sidewalk without looking inside.

"I thought the envelope was too bulky to have been discarded by someone and I peeked inside. It was quite a shock to see all that currency and those checks."

KLAN

relations are now developing between the Klan and Gerald K. Smith and his associates.

"The most current example," the petition says, "is perhaps that of the Klan front organization called the Continental League for Christian Freedom, headed by Millard Grubbs of Louisville, Ky. This organization is attempting to recruit veterans along violently anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic and anti-Negro lines.

"Grubbs also is an active organizer for the Klan in Kentucky. Grubbs has been associated in 'soft peace' agitation with the well-known German agent, Ernest Elmhurst, who was until recently in prison in New York."

Lasting Armistice Will Come Only From the Minds, Hearts and Actions of the People

Perhaps we should be thankful that an armistice should have lasted a quarter century. Throughout history, ambitious men have periodically convinced citizens of their nations that war would be advantageous. The winners of the battle are also losers in life, property and morals. How much better it would be to turn swords into plow shares that all may have enough to eat. To turn atomic energy into life-saving use that will lengthen man's span rather than blow him to dust. Let us work for affection and respect throughout the world rather than intimidation. Let us as citizens of our own nation convince our officials that a warlike attitude is not our aim and that we prefer lasting Peace to an indefinite Armistice.

No man—whether he's a veteran or not, can make a better investment than United States Savings Bonds! They help fight inflation now—help build your estate for "tomorrow"!

SANDUSKY BLUE DEVILS CRUSH HARDING PRESIDENTS 27-0

Visitors Chalk Up First Win Of 1946 As Prexies Bow Again

By GEORGE ROEST

Sandusky's Blue Streaks gained their first victory of the season last night setting Harding back to the tune of 27 to 0. This left Harding wanting after eight contests this year. Pulling what could be termed a minor upset, the visiting gridders had the third quarter all to themselves, taking to the air when their ground attack was held. An estimated 2,500 were on hand to see the Presidents in their final home game of the season.

Both teams had a good number of penalties called against them. Sandusky was set back 165 yards and Harding lost 60 yards because of officials' rulings.

Score in First

Sandusky scored in the first quarter when fullback LaRose, on a spinner inside Harding's left tackle, reeled off 44 yards. Ross swept his own right end for the point.

In the third quarter Sandusky capitalized on several breaks and racked up three touchdowns to put them comfortably in the lead.

Sprau punted to Rea on the 30 and after going to the 35 was nailed, fumbling and LaRose recovered on the Prexy 31. Alexander passed to Sprau in the right flat on the 10-yard line and he went into the north end zone. Laltose plunged for the point.

Sprau kicked off and recovered Tillis' fumble on the Harding 17 to set up the next Sandusky score. The Blue Streaks went to the Marion three but a penalty was called for clipping in the end zone, Sandusky being set back to the Harding 14. Sandusky lost to the 16 but on fourth down Alexander again connected with Sprau for a score. Hoss plunged for the point, making it Sandusky 21, Harding 0.

The final score was set up when Poggiali recovered a Prexy fumble on the Marion 28. Alexander passed to Ross who was stopped one short of the goal line by Coss. Alexander went over but the Sandusky backs started too soon and were penalized to the six. Two plays later Alexander jumped the line for two yards and six points. Left end Sprau attempted a placement which was low.

Statistically Sandusky rolled up a total net gain of 251 yards against 70 yards and three first downs for Harding. Their ground attack gave them 227 yards while they lost 50 yards from scrimmage. In the air they got a total of 74 yards. The Chief Executives totaled 95 yards on the ground and four by air.

In the second quarter Harding had several opportunities but failed in all of them. Their deepest penetration was to the two-yard line and the complete quarter was played mostly in Sandusky territory.

Backs Ross and LaRose were the chief ground gainers for the Blue Streaks, hitting their holes for consistently long gains. Mario Nolfi, Herb Phillians and Doug Duer turned in good defensive performances on the line. The complete Prexy line, however, proved itself able to hold in the clinches, but the pass defense failed when Sandusky was forced to take to the air.

Prexies Win Toss

Harding won the toss and elected to receive, defending the north goal. In the kickoff, Sandusky was offside so kicked again from their own 35. Harding was the ultimate loser, though, because on the first kick they were stopped on their own 37 and on the second kickoff Tillis was stopped on the 25 after a 10-yard runback.

Tillis punted from the Marion 30 to Alexander on the Sandusky 44 and he was stopped by Nolfi after getting five yards. Blough and LaRose got a first on the Marion 30. Sandusky was penalized to the 44, from where LaRose broke loose for the first touchdown, Ross picked up the extra point.

Start on Own 28

Marion started play from their own 28. Huddle got nothing and Rea picked up five yards. On the next play a lateral from Rea to Tillis resulted in a six-yard loss. Tillis quick-kicked from the 27 to Sandusky's 40. The remainder of the quarter was fought on even terms, Sandusky and Harding each punting once and Sandusky in possession on their own 20 as the quarter ended.

Herb Phillians smeared Ross for a 10-yard loss at the start of the second quarter and on fourth down and 28 yards to go Sprau got off a punt of only 11 yards which went out on the Sandusky 21. Hill picked up 11 yards but on the next play Harding was penalized to the 15 for backfield in motion. Huddle got to the 10, making it second and 10. Richie got two, Hill got two, and Huddle went to the two before Harding lost the ball on downs.

Kicks Out of Trouble

Sprau kicked out of his own end zone to Hill on the 33 for a run to the 26. Harding lost five yards before picking up eight, Sandusky taking over on their 23.

Sandusky picked up a first on the 33 and Duer recovered a fumble on the Sandusky 28. Harding was able to get only four yards on two running plays, an incomplete pass and one that was successful from Coss to H. Phillians for one yard.

The half ended with Sandusky in possession on their own 45.

In the third quarter the Blue Devils cleaned up, scoring 20 points before the teams changed goals.

The fourth period saw Harding fighting with their backs to the wall throughout. Forced to punt from their own 37 Hill's kick was almost blocked, landing on the 40 and rolling backards to the Prexy 20.

Lauder got 10 but Sandusky was penalized to the 39 for holding. LaRose picked up six yards and Alexander, almost tackled, passed to LaRose who reversed his field and picked up about 18 and just short of a first down. The Prexy line held, Marion getting the ball on their own 10. Hill went around his own left end for 13 yards and a penalty for unnecessary roughness put the ball on the Marion 45. Bishop lost four and Gherman picked up 10 which was nullified by Harding being offside.

Tillis got seven. Bishop picked up four making it fourth and six. Tillis punted to Alexander on the Sandusky 22 for a six-yard runback. Graves, a substitute halfback, reeled off a run of 48 yards to the Marion 15 but a penalty for clipping set Sandusky back on the Marion 30. Again penalized, Sandusky was forced back to the 35. Coty fumbled and lost nine yards. Graves picked up nine. Marion got the ball on the 30 and gained to the 45 via the penalty route. Tillis attempted a punt which was blocked, Sandusky getting the ball on the Marion 28 in the closing minutes of the game. Sandusky lost to the 46 and Blough picked up six yards as the game ended.

No New Record Seen

Commenting on whether the 165 yards called against Sandusky last night was a new record, E. Paul Hoffman, Harding athletic director, said that he didn't believe it was.

He pointed out that in some games where several penalties were called against a team for half the distance to the goal line, yardage lost was much greater.

St. Mary Winds Up Season Whipping Mt. Gilead 18-7

Irish Clinch Loop's Third Spot As Mounties Land In Fourth

St. Mary last night gained third place in the Mid-State league by ending its season with an 18 to 7 victory over Mt. Gilead on the loser's field.

The defeat, handed Mt. Gilead at their homecoming and their dedication game, dropped them out of a second place tie with Richwood to fourth place. Richwood, by beating Sunbury 19 to 14, clinched second place.

St. Mary scored once in the second period, sewed up the game in the final period and added a clincher in the same stanza.

Mt. Gilead averted a shut-out by scoring in the closing moments of the game.

St. Mary easily out-gained and out-played their opponents. The statistics are no real yardstick as Mt. Gilead punched three first downs and scored upon the Irish reserves, whom Coach Fetter had to call upon to replace injured first stringers.

Heads-up pass defense proved the spell for the Terriers as they set up all their scores directly or indirectly from interceptions.

Throughout the first quarter, from the time Gallaher kicked off, the game was evenly fought, with St. Mary holding a slight edge in the statistics.

St. Mary scored in the second quarter when Burke went over from the two yard line after a Mt. Gilead pass was intercepted on the 18 yard marker. Werley failed on a conversion attempt. The Irish added another six-pointed in the fourth period before Mt. Gilead scored.

Baldauf went into pay dirt from the one yard line after a sustained drive on running plays brought the ball to Mt. Gilead territory. Conversion again failed.

Nelson Campbell ran 20 for the only Mt. Gilead touchdown in the final quarter. The Marion boys added a touchdown for good measure late in the final session when Schuler intercepted a Mt. Gilead pass on losers 40 and galloped into pay dirt standing up.

Betting Odds Even On Irish, Army With Tickets At $200

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—The thundering three-deep Notre Dame football horde and Army's avalanche of 60-minute men collide today—and the betting was just about a toss-up as to whether it would be revenge for the Irish or the 26th straight for the Cadets.

Not in the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been a football frolic like this one in these parts, with the nation's two mightiest moleskin machines moving onto Yankee Stadium for the 1:30 p. m. kickoff to settle the national championship, a crowd of some 74,000 fans, will see it.

Hungry for revenge from the 107 points under which the baleful Black Knights of the Hudson, headed by "the monster and his playmate"—Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis—have buried them over the past two years, the Irish came to town roaring and full of fight. They brought the best Notre Dame squad in three years—three deep and sparked by the return from the wars of the classy quarterback (Johnny Lujack) and the cagy coach (Frank Leahy), who spearheaded the Irish to their last game win, back in '43.

The gambling gentlemen, however, take a very large view of the Cadets and quoted the odds at "6-to-5-and-pick-'em."

A series of unfortunate injuries in the last few days definitely removed Herschnel (Ug) Fuson, fast and husky and a hawk on defense, from the Army backfield forces, and made it extremely doubtful that either fleet Floyd Simmons, just coming into his own as a halfback, or Ziggy Czarobski, right tackle mainstay, would see any action for Notre Dame.

Lujack, left-halfback Terry Brennan and center George Stromeyer of the Irish also were left with assorted bumps and bruises that may hamper their activities.

Speculators asked $200 a-piece for tickets—then told you there were none to be had. You could probably trade off two on the 40-yard line for an apartment or a new car.

GREEN CAMP CAGERS TRIP WHARTON 30-22

Visiting Reserves Save Something with 20-18 Triumph.

Special to The Star

GREEN CAMP — Green Camp High school basketball team defeated Wharton 30-22 on the local gymnasium last night. Green Camp got an early lead and maintained it all the way, leading 10-6 at the half. In the final period fouls were frequent and Wharton had the better of Green Camp in that department, as their accuracy from the free throw line, plus two field goals, enabled them to garner 11 points, the same as the locals, in the final stanza. The visitors were very erratic in shooting field goals, getting only one bucket in the first half. Hensel was high scorer for Green Camp with 12, and G. McGinnus for the visitors with 7. Six players left the game via the foul route.

In a nip and tuck affair the Wharton Reserves edged the local Reserve outfit 20-18.

HARDING BAND GIVES STAR PERFORMANCE

Harding High school band last night gained approval of all spectators with the show they presented before the Harding-Sandusky game and during the half time period.

The band went allout, in this season's last performance on the football field, to provide the spectators with a good musical program.

During the period between halves they presented a salute to the mothers and fathers of the Harding players in spelling out a large "Mom" and then "Pop." For the Mom formation they played "I Want a Girl," and while forming the salute to the fathers they played "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Then with field lights out they went into a double animated spiral formation which ultimately resulted in four revolving circles like so many merry-go-rounds on the playing field.

To top off their performance they formed a large heart which extended from one 35-yard line to the other 35-yard line and the lights were once more turned off, the band leaving the field under cover of darkness with a large chalked heart remaining where the formation had been.

CABBIES TO MEET COLUMBUS RENS HERE

Semi-Pros Out To Preserve City's Record.

The Marion Safety Cab A. C.'s will meet the Columbus Rens at the stadium tonight.

Marion will go into this game after spending a week's practice on offense and pass defense. Last week they seemed to have gotten their offense more geared up and providing they don't run into a stone wall, the Cabbie backs may do better tonight than ever before.

The Columbus all-Negro outfit will be lighter than the Marion club and was beaten by more than 40 points by the Galion semi-pros. Considering this, it is not too much to favor the Cabbies tonight. That game, however, was early in the season and what the Rens have at present is not known. An account of the Galion tilt says that, although outweighed, they gained the favor of the Galion crowd with their continuously stalwart playing. The last quarter of that game had to be shortened because of the number of injuries suffered by the Columbus squad.

A team from Columbus still hasn't gained a verdict over a Marion team, however if the Rens fail to do that another Columbus team will be given the chance Thanksgiving day. The 740 A. C.'s city champs in Columbus have been scheduled for the last game of the season. Next week the Cabbies play a return engagement with the Dayton Bombers who are the champs in their city.

The probable lineups for tonight will be Howard Richardson and Max Roseberry at the ends, in reserve at these positions are Bob Richards and John Gilmore, at tackles Coach Fetter has a decision to make among Bob Dull, Bill Fate, Lester Russell, Ned Samples and Charles Lust. Guards will probably be Captain Marun Lewis and Bob Strobel, Willard Benson will be at center. In the backfield Ed Simmons will be quarterback, Johnny Williams and Leo Belknap will be at the halves, and Leroy Harvey will start at fullback. Fred Ruhl will get the punting assignment and Nick Cafagno will trade off at half and quarterback. Some of the other backs who will be called upon are Charles Greenwood, Harold Melvin and Bob Slatzer.

Portable Radios Out At Ivy Loop Games

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—They've banned portable radios from Baker field today for the Penn-Columbia Ivy league sellout, so this block of football fans will have to have its ears attuned to the loudspeakers for the period scores of "that game."

"That game," in case you just got back from the moon and haven't caught up on world affairs, is the Yankee stadium clambake where a fortunate 74,000 will see Army and Notre Dame battle it out for national championship honors.

The Penn-Columbia clash is the East's No. 2 offering, with the Quakers aiming to climb back nearer to the third-place rating in the nation's top ten they lost when they were upset by Princeton last week. Leadership in the Ivy league also hinges somewhat on this game.

Unbeaten and untied Georgia is seeking to retain its No. 3 ranking in taking on winless University of Florida, while the University of California at Los Angeles figures to guard its fourth-place position in its meeting with Oregon.

The Louisiana State-Alabama game at New Orleans should go far toward settling LSU's aspirations to the Southeastern conference crown.

Topping a three-game Western conference card, Northwestern and defending champion Indiana clash before an expected 40,000 in Evanston. Each needs a victory to keep its Big Nine title hopes alive. Iowa goes to Wisconsin for a showdown of the circuit's .500 performers while Purdue and Minnesota struggle to elude the cellar.

Illinois, current pace-setter in the conference, is idle. Ohio State gets an expected breather for its big battle with the Illini next Saturday by taking on Pittsburgh at Columbus. In another non-conference scrap, Michigan entertains Michigan State.

Rabid Ohio State Football Fans Find Themselves in Unusual Role

Buck Rooters Have Soft Spot In Hearts For Pitt Opponents

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9—Ohio State's notoriously-rabid football fans found themselves in a new role today.

They had a soft spot in their hearts for the opponents, the Pittsburgh Panthers. None could be a Pittsburgh victory, but many admitted they'd like to see the Panthres make a "good showing" against the favored Bucks before an assured Dad's Day crowd of 76,000 in Ohio stadium today.

That's because the Pantners are coached by one of Ohio State's greatest all-around athletes of all time—Wesley Eugene Fesler, an all-Western conference guard in basketball, an All-America footballer both at end and in the backfield and the first baseballer to win the coveted Potter Runmaker trophy twice in a row while performing for Ohio State a decade and half ago.

Coach Paul Bixler of Ohio State, pronouncing his team in its best physical condition in weeks, said he'd field the same sarting eleven which has been going at a 39-points-a-game clip in Western Conference circles the past two weeks.

Fesler picked his starters from a squad of 33 freshmen, 16 sophomores, six juniors and three seniors who have won two tied one and lost four, the defeats being Notre Dame, Illinois, Indiana and Purdue.

The probable starting lineups:

Ohio State	Pos.	Pittsburgh

By The Associated Press

PLESANTON, Cal., Nov. 9—Fullback Marion Motley and guard Bill Willis, Negro stars of the Cleveland Browns, will not play with the All-America conference leaders when they tackle the Miami Seahawks Dec 2 at Miami.

"When I signed the boys last summer, I made an agreement with the league that I wouldn't use them in Florida," Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland club said.

"I wouldn't do anything that might embarrass the boys," Brown added.

Both players were used when the Browns beat Miami 44 to 0 in Cleveland last September.

The Cleveland team is training here for its match in San Francisco tomorrow with the San Francisco 49ers.

BOUDREAU PROMISES TRIBE IMPROVEMENT

Won't Predict Pennant but Vows Higher Standing.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9—Manager Lou Boudreau isn't making any pennant predictions for his Cleveland Indians, but he does say the 1947 edition will be far better than the team which ended last season in sixth place.

Boudreau flew here yesterday from his Roseland, Ill., home and spent five hours conferring with Tribe President Bill Veeck, now recovering in a hospital following amputation of his war-injured right leg.

"Bill gave us a fine start when we traded Allie Reynolds for Joe Gordon," Boudreau said, adding: "We're in pretty good shape right now with Gordon at second and this kid, Ed Bockman, for third basing duties. Our key position right now is center field and we're trying to make a deal, but even if we should fail to land a recognized star, I think Dale Mitchell will fool a lot of experts."

CAREY TIES UPPER TO STAY UNBEATEN

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Carey High school Blue Devils remained in the unbeaten class by tieing the Upper Sandusky Rams 7 to 7, here last night in the final game of the season for both teams. The Carey crew finished with seven wins and two ties. The other tie was with Fremont.

The Rams ended the season with a record of five victories, two defeats and two ties. The annual battle of the two Wyandot county elevens attracted a crowd of 4,000 fans. Upper made 10 first downs to Carey's five.

Carey scored in the second period after a pass from Wedge to Strahm brought the ball to the Rams 20 yard line. Left half Newell of Carey started around right end and cut back over tackle to grab the touchdown and then converted on a dropkick.

The Rams tied the score in the third stanza when a series of first downs on running plays brought the ball to the Carey one yard line from where fullback Rife plunged over the goal line for the touchdown. Rife also converted with a placement.

In the final quarter both teams threw numerous passes in an effort to break the tie but interceptions stopped the rallies in each instance.

The Blue Devils will play a charity game with Van Lue Thursday in Darnell stadium at Findlay. The game is sponsored by the Shrine and proceeds will go to the crippled children's fund. The contest will start at 8 p. m.

Miami, Florida Variety, Whips Miami, Ohio Flavor, 20 To 17

By The Associated Press

The University of Miami Hurricanes kept the Confusion Bowl" title at Coral Gables, Fla., by edging Miami University Redskins of Oxford, O., 20-17 in a nip-and-tuck football game that thrilled 31,158 perspiring fans Friday night.

The Redskins broke out of a 7-7 tie in the second period, on a 17-yard field goal by Tom Cole, right halfback, but the Floridans drove 64 yards to regain the lead at halftime 14-10. The Hurricans scored another touchdown in the third period, but so did the Ohio team. In the scoreless final period the home team repulsed the visitors' desperate efforts to overcome the three-point margin.

In the only other Friday night game involving an Ohio team, Hiram college's Bulldogs scored their fourth victory in seven starts at Detroit, beating Lawrence Tech 13-7. George Sullivan and McLaughlin scored for Hiram in the first half, and the Lawrence touchdown came in the third quarter.

GALION GETS 12-12 TIE WITH ASHLAND

GALION, Nov. 9 — An upset in football history took place when Galion High closed its season, Friday night, at Heise park field with a 12-12 tie in a non-league game with Ashland High school.

The favored Ashland Hilltoppers who had beat the Shelby Whippets, Northern Ohio league champions, 18-0 this year, had six victories and two defeats before coming to Galion. Galion High Tigers finished on a low rung in the league this year and was not favored to win Friday night.

After the first kick-off of the game, Lynn Hoskett made a touchdown on a 16-yard pass from Ramsey following a 59-yard drive. Galion made its second score in the second half when Ramsey made a touchdown from the four-yard line after Galion had blocked an Ashland punt on Ashland's 18-yard line.

Ashland made a come-back in the second half when Hurst scored from the six-inch line after 68-yard march on the opening kick-off. On the first play of the last quarter Hurst scored from the two-yard line after Fierbaugh, sub-halfback intercepted Ramsey's pass on Ashland's to make the extra points. Tom Drake, Frank Morgan, and Elizabeth Taylor are starred in the new technicolor adventure "Courage of Lassie" which presents the screen's "wonder dog," Lassie, as Bill. It will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater.

Ohio Theater Books Musical

"Three Little Girls in Blue" Opens Tuesday with Atlantic City Theme.

"Nobody Lives Forever" starring John Garfield and Geraldine Fitzgerald, a thrilling drama of love and adventure, is now playing through Monday at the Ohio theater. In the supporting cast are Walter Brennan, Faye Emerson, George Coulouris and George Tobias.

The film recounts the moving story of Nick Blake, played by John Garfield, an ex-GI returning to civilian life, who is disillusioned when he learns that his girl friend, Toni, played by Faye Emerson, has found herself another man, and who also attempts to hold on to a large sum of money Nick had left in her care. However, Nick recovers his money and teams up with a mob planning to get, by any means, the better part of a young widow's fortune. But the scheme backfires as Nick's conscience begins to make itself felt.

"Three Little Girls in Blue," the new technicolor musical starring June Haver, George Montgomery, Vivian Blaine, Celeste Holm, Vera-Ellen and Frank Latimore will open Tuesday to be shown for seven days.

An exciting whirlwind of gaiety, romance and melody, the picture tells of three sisters who decide to sell their chicken farm and go millionaire husband-hunting on the boardwalk at Atlantic City. It is set against the background of that city at the turn of the century, and introduces eight new hit songs.

June Haver, Vivian Blaine and Vera-Ellen play the three little girls. George Montgomery and Frank Latimore pop up as very desirable targets for June who is at the head of the campaign of the three sisters. However, their campaign has a setback when Celeste Holm enters the scene.

through Saturday are "She Went to the Races" with James Craig and Frances Rafferty, "Cherokee Flash" with Sunset Carson and Linda Stirling, and "Any Old Port" with Laurel and Hardy.

"THREE LITTLE GIRLS IN BLUE," a new technicolor musical opening Tuesday at the Ohio theater to be shown for seven days, has an all-star cast featuring June Haver, George Montgomery, Vivian Blaine, Celeste Holm, Vera-Ellen and Frank Latimore.

"Courage of Lassie" Booked At Palace Theater Next Week

"Courage of Lassie" starring Elizabeth Taylor, Frank Morgan and Tom Drake and the screen's "wonder dog," Lassie, will be shown Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater. It is photographed in technicolor.

Added features will include a technicolor short, "Sudden Fried Chicken," the latest Paramount news, and another short, "Traffic With Devil."

Frank Morgan as a kindly rancher, and Elizabeth Taylor as the youngest member of a neighboring sheep-raising family, adopt "Bill," played by Lassie, as their own, after finding him on the ranch.

Having been taught obedience by his devoted mistress, the dog risks his life to bring in the strays at lambing time. One day "Bill" is run down by a truck, and the driver takes him to a nearby city where he recovers. When his owners can't be located "Bill" is sent to an Army dog training center.

Later, as a member of the Army Canine Corps, "Bill" is sent to Attu with his sergeant trainer, Tom Drake. After an act of heroism in which the collie saves the lives of nine men and is cited for bravery, he becomes a victim of battle fatigue and turns into a vicious killer. He is sent back to the States and finds his way to the countryside where he had been adopted by Elizabeth Taylor. "Bill" becomes a killer of sheep, but is finally found by Elizabeth after he has been chased by a rancher. Under care, he again becomes a gentle collie but has to stand trial for his misdeeds.

A double feature, Frank Borzage's great technicolor production of "I've Always Loved You," and "For Me and My Pal" with Laurel and Hardy will be shown Thursday through Saturday.

The former, a highly dramatic musical, stars Catherine McLeod, a talented young pianist, as Myra and Philip Dorn, a Dutch-born actor, as the domineering and brilliant musician, Goronoff. William Carson is cast in the role of George, a farm boy. It is his second motion picture role.

Destined to be one of the leading and most talked about pictures of the year, one of the unusual and outstanding features is the interweaving of the musical composition, which were recorded especially for the picture by Arthur Rubinstein, famed concert pianist. The Rachmaninoff 2nd Piano Concerto in C sharp minor is the theme composition of the picture.

The story tells of Myra, a young pianist, who falls in love with Goronoff, while under his instruction, only to find there is no place for her in his life as his great passion is music. After her debut at Carnegie Hall, she returns to her home and marries George, her childhood sweetheart. However she finds that her life is dominated by the memory of Goronoff.

2 Films Open Marion Week

"Going To Town" and "Tall in the Saddle" To Play at Marion.

A romantic comedy and an exciting drama of the west have been billed for Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater. They are "Goin' to Town" starring Lum and Abner with Barbara Hale, and "Tall in the Saddle" with John Wayne and Ella Raines.

The former revolves around an oil boom in the little town of Pine Ridge and the efforts of Lum and Abner to save the people of the town from ruin after they have mortgaged everything to provide cash to bore an oil well. The story in the latter tells of a cowhand who sets out to solve the murder of a rancher, becomes involved in two fights and a three-cornered romance, and is framed in a second murder. To prove his innocence, he is forced to track down the real slayer.

"To Each His Own" starring Olivia DeHavilland and Joan Lund, and "Shepherd of the Hills" will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday.

The story in the former spans the years between the two great wars that brought love, heartbreak, sacrifice and finally happiness to Jody Norris, played by Olivia DeHavilland.

"Gentleman Joe Palooka" with Leon Errol as Knobby Walsh and Joe Kirkwood Jr. as Joe Palooka, and "Out California Way" starring Monte Hale and Adrian Booth will be shown Thursday through Saturday.

The second in a series of pictures about the famous comic strip character, the former tells of the adventures of Joe Palooka as a prize fighter. In the latter Monte Hale plays a likeable young cowboy who travels to California to look for a job in motion pictures. A famous Western star who becomes jealous of Monte attempts to eliminate him from the work at the studio.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

THE mention of Bertha Kent's name turned me back to the dining room door in a rush. I knew that if the placid but efficient wife of Charlie Kent, my father's trusted taxi driver, who knew all about our secret room, was "awful excited," as Katie had said, it meant she had something most important for me to hear, and that I must be ready for action before I discussed food.

When I opened the dining room door again, every face at the table was turned toward me. But I spoke directly to Lillian.

Will Be Detained

"Will you please carry on for me as hostess?" I asked. "I am afraid I shall be detained for a few minutes."

"Of course," she said, and my father pushed back his chair from the head of the table.

"I think I shall come with you," he said. "Junior, Roderick, will you decide between you which shall take my place here?"

I did not wait to hear how the boys settled their problem. I had closed the door again and I turned to Katie whose face, I told myself, resembled nothing so much as a board upon which a painter had carelessly wiped brushes of mixed colors.

"I tink she boorst eet you not coom right away," she whispered.

Less Than a Minute

"Tell her I'll be there in less than a minute," I told her, and she scurried away as my father came out of the door.

"What is it?" he asked, and I told him quickly.

"I'll see her with you," he decided without hesitation. "It will save time."

He put his hand beneath my elbow and we went directly to the kitchen where plump, patently worried Bertha Kent was pacing the door. She turned as we entered, and drew a sharp relieved breath.

"Oh, I'm so glad you're here!" she said tremulously. "I've got to talk fast, for I've got to get back before anybody knows I'm gone. Charlie says this is life and death stuff."

My father spoke with mandatory decision.

"Tell us at once what you mean," he said, and Bertha Kent's head lifted as if she had felt a touch of the spur.

"I don't know what's happened," she said, "but Charlie came in a few minutes ago with blood and the smell of medicines all over him. He told me to listen carefully while he changed his clothes, for he said he had to go right out again.

"He wasn't hurt himself," she went on and added grimly, "I saw to that before I'd listen to a word. Then he said I'd have to hide the clothes under the coal in the cellar, and wear old shoes while I did it. He said to wipe off my shoes, and put them in the closet, and sweep off the cellar steps, and brush up the dirt to the coal bin, so the footprints wouldn't show. Then he said to take the old car, and come over here—said he was going to take the big car out, and to leave a card on the door saying we'd both gone out on calls, but would be back inside of an hour.

The Queerest Thing.

"But the queerest thing was what he told me to tell you. He said the next time he brought 'Mr. X' over here — maybe tonight — you must be sure not to mention the secret room or the people in it unless 'Mr. X' did, and then you weren't to say a word he didn't show he knew already. He said he couldn't explain until he found out something more. But that it meant something awful if you didn't remember what I'm telling you now."

I felt a familiar icy finger along my spine, all the more terrifying because what she was saying was so astounding—and so mystifying. Then my father spoke, as her voice trailed off into silence.

Repeat It Slowly.

"Please repeat what he told you to tell us, slowly."

She obeyed him, and then her voice sharpened with worry.

"Can't I get back?" she said. "Charlie doesn't think anybody suspicious will come along before I get back, and he had me put the sign on for any local chance call that might come in. But he says one of us has to be there all the time for 'Mr. X.' Those are his orders.

"I don't know what it's all about," she finished plaintively. "But one thing I know. I've never seen Charlie scared before, but he's sure scared now."
